

My One Page Profile

Tony Ward

Occupation: Site Manager (Jack of all Trades)

What people appreciate about me

A chatty and friendly individual, who is always willing to help people.

Getting things done. I like to tick the tasks and jobs off my 'to do' list!

A born organiser.

I'm an expert at making a great cuppa!

What I find difficult

Getting to grips with people who are untidy.

I can be impatient and find it difficult to just sit around.

What is important to me now

Being in a happy work environment.

Being active and busy

My own business. Crazy Legs Events!

Getting the right work / life balance.

I enjoy my food. Not got a particular favourite as long as it's tasty. Manchester City Football Club!

What I like

Most sports but especially football and running.

Keeping fit so that I don't have to worry about what I eat.

Being tidy and working in a tidy environment. (A place for everything and everything in its place)

A bargain in the sales!

What I dislike

People who are unable to see both sides of the argument.

Bigotry, especially on social media

Paying full price for clothes

Inconsiderate driving!

How to support me

I react well to being appreciated. Pay me compliments!

Offer me advice on my new role, but don't expect me to always take it!

Remind me of appointments or outstanding tasks/jobs.

Feel free to give me a lift or help out with a job.

Join me on a run or cycle.

What is important to me in the future?

Family, especially my new grandson and daughters.

Being content with life, my work and business.

Paying off my mortgage as soon as possible.
