What I find difficult

Driving.
Having photos taken of me.

What is important to me now

My family are very important and I am close with my sister, nephew and step children. I really appreciate lots of sleep and function better on a good night's sleep and breakfast.

What I like

Helping others
Seeing the children I work with succeed and achieve, spending time with family and friends. People who make me laugh

What I dislike

Lack of respect.
I really don't like tomatoes.
I find it hard to be patient with people who are not willing to apologise

How to support me

Listen to me carefully.
By talking about things that I am interested in.

What is important to me in the future?

To progress through my career.
To own my own house.
To be happy and content.
